Resolutions and Amendments: Short Form

#	Rule	Second ?	Debatable?	Vote?	Description
10.2	Submission of Draft Resolutions	No	No	No	This is not a motion, but rather the act of bringing your resolution to the dais staff. You will submit the resolution and it will be checked for formatting and content. Once processed, the Chairperson will then inform the body that a delegate can motion for consideration of draft resolution (9.3).
10.3	Consideration of Draft Resolution	Yes	No	Majority	Once the draft resolution has been distributed to the body, this motion allows the body to officially begin substantive debate on it. If the motion passes the sponsors of the resolution will be invited to explain the resolution to the body and take Points of Inquiry.

10.5	Friendly Amendments	No	No	No	A Friendly amendment can be submitted to the chair through an amendment form. It is automatically adopted if all sponsors agree.
10.6	Unfriendly Amendments	Yes	2 In favor, 2 Opposed	Majority	An unfriendly amendment can be submitted to the chair through an amendment form. The presenter of the amendment will then speak on it and the body will go into formal debate on the amendment.
Voting Procedures
10.7	Division of the Question	Yes	2 In favor, 2 Opposed	Majority	This motion can be used after closure of debate and before the body has voted on the resolution. It divides the resolution so that selected clauses can be voted on separately.
11.5.1	Adoption by Consensus	No	No	No Objections	If there are no objections to adopting a proposal by consensus, then the proposal passes by consensus. Standard voting will continue if there are one or more objections.
11.5.2	Roll Call Vote	No	No	No	If this motion is made the Chairperson will call each country's name. Possible responses are: Yes, Yes with Rights, No, No with Rights, Abstain, and Abstain from the Order. This motion is used if a delegate wishes to see how each delegate votes.
